

ATTELL'S TRAINING IS QUITE SEVERE

American Boxer Going Through Hard Course of Sprouts for Driscoll.

BOXING PARTNERS EARN THEIR MONEY

Three Victims Daily Take Severe Walloppings, With Small Chance for Revenge.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Abe Attell, champion featherweight fighter, has begun the shortest and hardest training period of his career at Johnson's roadhouse up in Yonkers.

With Charlie Selger, Danny Sullivan, and little Johnny Daly, as trainers and sparring partners, Abe has submitted to a regime calculated to get him back to his old time speed and shiftiness in time for his bout with Jim Driscoll at the National Athletic Club Friday night.

When Charlie Selger, known wherever a padded mitt is used as the "Hoboken Iron Man," called around at Johnson's and yanked Abe out of his downy couch the latter felt like sleeping just five minutes longer, but the "Iron Man" would not hear of it, and a wrestling match ensued. Selger is a husky lightweight, and he mauled Abe considerably before he got him thoroughly waked up.

Observes No Regular Diet.

When he got up Attell fooled with the chest weights for several minutes, punched the bag for a while, and then sat down to a hearty breakfast. The champion is not stinting himself in the food line. Abe is away under weight, and he eats whatever he wants. A game of cards came after the breakfast, and then Attell went out on the road for a six-mile run. He plowed through mud and water, climbed pasture fences and slipped through lots for about an hour, at the end of which time he was ready for a bath and rub down.

For dinner he was served around the greater part of a large steak, several potatoes, some carrots and other vegetables, and washed the meal down with a big draught of tea. Another game of cards, and he was ready for the afternoon stunts. He punched the bag, swung dumb bells, and called for more exercise.

ABE ATTELL

The victim was Danny Sullivan, long, angular, and shadowy. The pair donned heavy gloves, and Al Lippe, Attell's manager, called time. Sullivan rushed Attell, shoved his fist at the spot where Abe's head had been an instant before. But, alas, for Danny, Abe's head was not there when the punch arrived, and Danny would have gone sailing through the air had not Attell's right brought him to a sudden stop.

Doing Much Boxing.

Selger has a wallop that would fell a horse if it landed right, but there was no chance of it landing on Attell. The champion walloped Selger hard and often, and during the resting periods Attell walked around "shadow boxing."

After Selger came little Johnny Daly, who is training for a battle with Johnny Coulon, the bantamweight champion. Daly was fast as a stream, and he made Attell hustle to keep out of the way of his punches. A crowd of light fans jammed into Attell's training quarters, and they were greatly impressed at the showing made by the champion.

After his sparring Attell stepped onto the scales and he scarcely moved the beam at 125½ pounds, which is two and a half pounds under weight at which he is to meet Driscoll at the National A. C. on Friday night.

CY YOUNG WON'T KICK ON TRADE

Becomes Facetious When Reporter Tells Him He's Bound for Cleveland.

TERMS OF DEAL STILL UNKNOWN

But Mention Is Made of Two Players and Bunch of Money.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 17.—"If you call me from a warm bed again, just to tell me I have been traded, I won't help you win any pennants."

Evidently it was cold early this morning in Paoli, a small Ohio town famed chiefly as the home of "Cy" Young, and the veteran pitcher was not as much interested in the news that he was to be transferred from Boston to Cleveland as he was in getting back under and blankets.

"If they want me for the Cleveland club," he said, as he hung up the telephone receiver, "I can see no objections to my playing there."

Cleveland fans were simply mad with delight today when they heard from Chicago, that the Boston pitcher was to be traded to the Naps for Pitchers Charles Chech, Jack Ryan, and a cash consideration. The exact terms of the trade are still unknown.

Young will now be able to finish his long baseball career with the club here where he started in 1905. He was born in this State at Gilmore, March 29, 1897, and his home has always remained here.

GIANTS' EXODUS IN FULL BLAST

Two Players and Newspaper Men Start South Today. More Go Tomorrow.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—The New York Giants began their spring exodus to Martin Springs, Tex., to go into training today.

Two players, with a bunch of newspaper men, left at noon on the Antilles, of the Southern Pacific line, for New Orleans. These are infielders Simmons and Pitcher "Red" Walker. Manager John J. McGraw and President John T. Brush are already in New Orleans. They will leave tomorrow or Friday for Martin Springs to see that everything is in readiness for the reception of the vanguard, soon to follow.

Tomorrow the main detachment of the Giant recruits will get under way to the Lone Star State. Some fifteen youngsters have been ordered to report at St. Louis today to Sid Mercer, who will act as secretary-treasurer during the trip to camp. Of these Catcher Schell and Pitcher "Babe" Raymond are known commodities, though strange to Giants and Giant managers. Pitchers "Rube" Marquard, "Bull" Durham, Catchers Shodgrass, Wilson, and Meyers, and Outfielders Myer and Coughlin have assured Secretary Knowles that they will be on deck in the Mount City. Six or seven other recruits under contract have been ordered to show up with the rest.

This event gives the Columbia varsity crew four regattas for the season, the first being the Harvard-Columbia race, the Harlem river regatta, and the Intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie. The race with the Naval crew on the Severn will be two miles, and it will be the only event to be held there on that day.

Coach Rice is beginning to stir things up in the rowing ranks at Columbia. He will call out the freshmen squad today, and by the end of the week he will proceed to cut down the varsity candidates and put the men remaining in training on the rowing machines for hard practice.

Moore has met with success in Philadelphia, and, although no decisions are given in the Quaker City, the newspapers have generally granted Moore the better of the majority of his stilt arguments. He has of late met such boys as Frankie Nell, "Young Pierce," "Willie" Gibler, "Jimmy" Walsh, and Al Delmont, and not in one of them did he even receive a shade of the worse of the setto.

The "out" will be at fifteen rounds next Friday a week, and this distance will be practically new for both Moore and Kline. While the latter has been scheduled in some fifteen-round affairs, he has generally disposed of his opponents before the bout had gone half the distance.

CARDINALS WANT GAMES. The Cardinal Athletic Club, of Alexandria, has organized, and wants games with any team averaging fifty or sixty years. Its line-up is: Martin Schofield, Melville and Astyrke, pitchers; Patterson and K. Cockrell, catchers; Lynn, first base; F. Cockrell, second base; Corbett, third base; Murphy, left field; Owens, center field; Dudley, right field; Bayless, Howard and Brown, substitutes. Address John Schofield, manager, 315 North Columbus street, Alexandria, Va.

Jack Coombs and Eddie Plank are to go to New Orleans ahead of the Athletics. Dygert and Schlitzler have been in that city all winter.

DISTANCE RUNNING GROWING IN SOUTH

Entries in Federal Games Show Sport Has Taken on New Life in Recent Years—School Boys Interested.

That middle and long distance running is a popular sport among Southern athletes is evident from the fact that 10 individuals have entered in these events in the Federal games next Saturday night.

Of these forty are in the 600-metre open handicap, twenty-three in the scholastic 1,500-metre, twenty-five in the 1,500-metre open handicap, twenty in the 3,000-metre run, twenty-two in the 500-metre novice, and twenty-seven in the scholastic 600-metre run.

In the 800-metre for novices, Princeton has A. M. Conner, John Hopkins has T. J. Schuchter, and George Washington has Halter, and the Western High School has four entries. Western High also has seven representatives in the scholastic 600-metre, Georgetown Prep three, Technical High five, and Tome Institute, Business High, the Washington School for Boys and Brown Prep of Philadelphia are also represented.

John Gallagher, of Brown Prep, interscholastic champion, who won two events in the George Washington games, is the star in the 1,000-metre for school boys. He will have some hefty opponents from Western, Business and Tech, Georgetown Prep, the Emerson Institute, Baltimore City College and Woodberry Forest.

Melvin Shepard, Olympic champion, has his work cut out for him in the 600-metre open handicap, with thirty-nine men on the marks ahead of him, among them Thurlow, of Virginia, Franz and Witely, of Princeton, Paul, of Pennsylvania, and a very choice assortment from Georgetown, George Washington, Johns Hopkins, the local team at Baltimore, and Washington schools.

The fields in the 1,500 and 3,000-metre open handicaps are also national with Shepard and local national two-mile champion, on the marks of the shorter distance, and Driscoll on scratch in the long event. Young Gallagher will start in either one of these events, with McGee, of Princeton, Paul, Cohen and Beeson of Pennsylvania, Brevy and Russell, of Hopkins, and Fleming, of George Washington, among the list of other starters.

The ticket sale will continue until Saturday afternoon at Spalding's and Hickman & White's.

COLUMBIA ROWING INTEREST AWAKES

Date Arranged With the Middies for April 8—Has Four Regattas.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Columbia's eight will row the Naval Academy crew this year on the Severn, at Annapolis, on April 8.

This event gives the Columbia varsity crew four regattas for the season, the first being the Harvard-Columbia race, the Harlem river regatta, and the Intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie. The race with the Naval crew on the Severn will be two miles, and it will be the only event to be held there on that day.

Coach Rice is beginning to stir things up in the rowing ranks at Columbia. He will call out the freshmen squad today, and by the end of the week he will proceed to cut down the varsity candidates and put the men remaining in training on the rowing machines for hard practice.

KEEPS EYE SKINNED WITH GOOD EFFECT

"I reckon you have to watch your pocketbook if you're overcoat, an' watch, an' so on, pretty close, don't you?"

A Western visitor to New York asked a friend, a native of that metropolis, if they were starting out to view the city, and, despite the citizen's assurance that no more than ordinary vigilance was required, the Westerner proceeded "to keep his eye skinned," much to his friend's amusement.

Presently they entered a cafe for luncheon. The New Yorker was discussing gayly upon the greatness of his native city, when he observed that the other had an expression on his face like that of a cat at a mouse hole.

"What are you watching so closely?" he inquired.

"Just keepin' an eye on my overcoat," the other replied.

"Oh, the coat's all right, I'm not worrying about mine, you see, and they are hanging together," the Westerner drawled.

"Mine's still there, but yours is gone—fellor walked out with it 'bout ten minutes or so ago."—Harper's Weekly.

CORNICES ARE USEFUL. Michael J. Garvin, architect of the new Bronx courthouse, was one of the witnesses at the continuation of the Haffen Inquiry before Wallace Macfarland.

He was asked by Commissioner of Accounts Mitchell at one point: "What is the function of a cornice?" "Its function is the same as the hat upon your head," was the reply.

"And that is?"

"To decorate what's underneath it," said Mr. Garvin.—New York Times.

PHIL KING CHOSEN ATHLETIC ADVISER

Washington Man Awarded Responsible Position by Authorities at Princeton.

PRINCETON, N. J., Feb. 17.—The Princeton faculty committee on outdoor sports has revealed public a plan by which Princeton's football team will be coached for the next two years.

The plan was submitted at a meeting of the graduate advisory committee. Howard Hendrick, '94; Walter C. Booth, '00, and Phil King, '93, are to constitute a supervisory committee to act with the faculty in directing the development of the eleven.

They will serve gratuitously and for a term of two years. They will have power to appoint a field coach and assistants, trainer, physician, etc., and a coach for the freshmen team.

H. L. Bowd, end on last season's team, has been named for freshmen coach, but the other coaches have not yet been chosen.

DIAMOND DUST. Christy Mathewson was asked the other night whether he advised the use of the spit ball. "Well," he replied, "I rarely ever use it unless I get tired of seeing Wagner or Chance knock out base hits."

A great compliment to the batting prowess of the two men and a frank acknowledgment from one of the greatest pitchers the game has known that there are some men he finds it difficult to cope with.

"Top" Anson places Amos Rusie at the top of the list of great pitchers, but admits that he has never seen Christy Mathewson work.

Patsy Donovan says that Alperman's trick has been ordered in from being one of the greatest second basemen in the game.

Christy Mathewson coached at Brown in 1922.

Jesse Burkett has started gymnasium work in Worcester to get in shape for the season.

Johnny Kling says he will not join the Chicago Nationals in spring training until the week before the season opens, but will attend at his billiard hall business in Kansas City and train with the local Western League team.

Jack Dunn has signed with Baltimore. He gets a bonus of $2,000, if the Orioles win the Eastern League pennant, $1,000 if they finish in second place, and $500 if they get third place.

The Polo Grounds seating capacity this year will reach close to 35,000. John T. Brush is reported to have spent $100,000 on his baseball plant this winter.

500-TO-1 SHOT WINS AT OAKLAND TRACK

Some Layers Cut Bright Skies to 300 to 1 When a Dollar Was Bet.

OAKLAND, Cal., Feb. 17.—There is something in a name, after all, even if the Hard of Avon was doubtful on that subject.

At least, the racegoers at the Emoryville track, who had a bet on Bright Skies in the last race, bid that her cognomen for this particular occasion was most appropriate. Their rosacea view was due to the fact that her winning odds were 500 to 1, the largest price offered against a successful horse in ten years.

In the early part of speculation on the race, some of the more venturesome of the pencilers marked 500 to 1 on their slates opposite her name.

Those odds tempted a few of the generals of the picking brigade, who take shots at long-priced horses, and they bet. Bright Skies is a bay filly, three years old, and is owned and trained by John Lowe, a man well known at Gravesend race track. Formerly claimed last night that he did not have a dollar bet on her. Lowe has for years been affiliated with Sam Hildreth's stables.

SPORT NOTES. Louisville has sold Jesse Stovall to Los Angeles.

Pitcher Lowe, of the Delmar, Del., team, has signed with the Portsmouth team, of the Virginia League.

Loos, the Philadelphia basketball player who lost to Pittsburgh, found the game there too strenuous, and will return home.

Cincinnati's contribution to the prize fund of the American Bowling Congress tournament at Pittsburgh totaled $2,000. This represents 10 teams of five, 63 teams of two, and 119 individuals.

In the roll-off to decide the Eastern Bowling League championship, New York won two out of three games from the New Haven live at New Haven. New York's last effort was good for 1,944.

The Turf baseball candidates reported for their initial practice of the season yesterday afternoon. The team is being coached by Nate Pulsifer, who covered the outfield for Hartford for a few games last season, and was later shipped into the New England League.

Catcher Matty Fitzgerald, with the Jersey City Eastern League club last year, is wanted by both the Albany and New Britain clubs. Fitzgerald lives in Albany, and Sox Waldman, the New Britain captain, who resides in Troy, has been trying hard to get him into line for Billy Hanna.

Frank A. Nishijima, a native of Japan, bears the distinction of being the first Japanese to be entered in a Marathon race. Nishijima will start in the Marathon to be run at Los Angeles Washington's birthday. During the war with Russia Nishijima served in the camp to General Kuroki, and first discovered that he had ability as a runner when carrying messages for his superior officers. He often carried messages for 15 hours at a stretch, and always ran with them.

The Columbia University Rowing Club has begun a movement to send the victorious schoolboys of the New York high schools to the American Henley at Philadelphia in May to compete against the Philadelphia and Baltimore high school crews. The Columbia management has set aside an appropriation in case the plan succeeds. The race to determine the superiority of the New York schoolboys probably will be held on the Harlem about May 22 under the auspices of the Columbia Rowing Club. It will be over a mile and a quarter course, the distance of the boy course in Philadelphia.
